

DAY 15 | May 15, 2020

Scripture

“Though one may be overpowered, two can defend themselves. A cord of three strands is not quickly broken.” — ECCLESIASTES 4:14

Inspiration

We don't have to go it alone during these difficult times. In fact, the ancient words from Ecclesiastes remind us that a friend, colleague or partner is important; add a third person and you've got an almost unbreakable bond. We often talk of teamwork and collaboration, and in this strange time of pandemic, that has never been more important. From what I've witnessed, the typical collaboration of colleagues has transformed into genuine care and concern for one another — another blessing from God that, if we don't pause to consider, we might just miss. God strengthens us through these important relationships!

Prayer

GRACIOUS GOD, we so often feel alone in our work, particularly in these challenging times, where nothing seems “normal” anymore. We can despair and become overwhelmed. But you don't let us stay there. You bless us with colleagues and teams that do more than help share our work; they also lift us up and genuinely care for us. What a blessing! Thank you for loving us so much that you bind us together and make us all better and stronger for the work ahead. We ask your continued blessing and protection for your people as together we serve. AMEN.

Real Blessings

“I'm fairly new to Wellspring and during this time it's been kind of hard for me; but my team members are some of the most amazing people. They are kind helpers, one to another, open-minded, hard workers and teambuilders. We are a team joined together and I feel right at home here at Wellspring.”
